Man Dies While Fighting Fire

A 77-year-old farmer of near the Jordan community apparently burned to death Monday, east of the Mt. Zion church, when a grass fire he was tending got out of control.

Coroner Barry White of Union City said the badly burned body of Lewis Allen Oliver was found late Monday afternoon by a neighbor, Floyd Shuck, in some woods beside a field on the Shuck farm.

Mr. Oliver apparently over-exerted himself in attempting to control the fire, Mr. White said, and suffered an attack of some kind. He fell across a burning log and died there.

Mr. White said he conducted an investigation of the tragedy at the scene Monday evening.

Gregory May Be Candidate

Noble Gregory of Mayfield, veteran congressman defeated for reelection two years ago, may try to regain the First District seat in the Democratic primary May 24.

Murray Youth Posts $2000 Bond

George C. Cain, 20-year-old Murray youth indicted by the grand jury March 8 for aiding and abetting voluntary manslaughter, posted $2,000 bond Monday in Graves Circuit Court at Mayfield and was released.

Phil Collie, also of Murray, charged with voluntary manslaughter in the hit-and-run death of Robert Earl Nance of Fulton at Mayfield December 12, is in the Calloway County jail serving a 6-months term for assault and battery. He will be turned over to Graves County authorities upon release from jail.

Cain's bond was signed by Leon Collie, father of Phil Collie.

Nance died at the Fuller-Morgan Hospital some three hours after he was found lying mortally wounded alongside the highway by his wife, Delores. His right leg was badly mangled, and he also suffered a severe head injury. Nance died without regaining consciousness.

Fast, efficient work by the Kentucky State Police and Calloway County officers resulted in the apprehension of Collie and Cain some 36 hours after the accident.

Officers matched parts of an automobile found at the scene of an accident with a vehicle in Leon Collie's garage.

When questioned by officers, Collie said he and a companion, identified as Cain, got drunk and that he believed the damage to the auto was caused when the vehicle struck a mailbox near Benton. A search of the area revealed no damaged mailbox.

Three Injured In Auto-Truck Crash

Three men were injured about 1 Monday afternoon when an auto and pickup truck collided at the State Line road and the Hickman highway.

Trooper Tom Kilpatrick of Union City said James H. Peeler, 34, Route 1 Hickman, driver of a 1957 Plymouth, was admitted to Obion County General Hospital in Union City with lacerations on his knees, a right arm injury and possible other injuries.

Robert L. Hughes of Hickman, a passenger in the Peeler automobile, suffered a scalp cut but was not admitted to the hospital. A. A. Elder of Union City, driver of a 1954 Ford pickup, received a head injury but declined to be hospitalized, Trooper Kilpatrick said.

Fulton And Surrounding Area Hit By Strong Wind Storm Tuesday Night

A wind, rain and electrical storm hit Fulton and the surrounding communities shortly after 10 p. m. Tuesday and damage amounting to thousands of dollars, mostly from the wind, was reported.

The wind tore off a portion of the King Motor Company roof, hurled garbage cans into the street and littered the area with tree branches.

The storm continued for about an hour.

The glass front at the Varden-Buck's Liquor Store was badly bent, and there were window panes broken out in many buildings, including the Fulton Hotel, the I. C. Depot and the Leland Jewell home on Carr Street.

There was considerable wind damage reported in the Chapel Hill Community.

Joe Davis, owner of the Fulton Gin Company, said there was a small amount of damage done at the gin - to a roof and a garage.

Motorists passing through Tuesday night shortly after the storm reported tree limbs blown down along the highways in the area.

Late Tuesday night and Wednesday morning the streets were littered in the area with garbage cans and tree branches, hurled by the strong winds.

And during the electrical storm lightning struck a big tree in the yard at the Paul Westpheling home on East State Line.

The wind hit Sonny Puckett Service Station hard Tuesday night scattering cans and accessories stacked outside the station up and down the street.

Mr. Powell thus fills a vacancy which was created over a year ago with the resignation of James Owens.

Jones Appointed To State Office

An announcement was released today that C. D. Jones has been appointed State Vice-President of the Kentucky Jaycees.

This was one of the biggest honors the local club has received. It is almost unheard of for a club which has been organized such a short time to be able to make such an impression on the state organization. Jones will be directly responsible for the Fulton, Bardwell, Arlington, Fulton County, Wickliffe, Paducah, Mayfield and Murray Clubs.

He is presently serving as Inter-Club Relation Chairman for the State of Kentucky. The local Jaycees, of which C. D. is past President, are now in the running for the No. 1 club in the state for 1959 and 1960.

C. D. is a charter member of the Fulton Club and has been instrumental in its success. He and his father are associates in the P. T. Jones and Sons Coal and Concrete Company.

Mrs. Sallie White, Who Recently Turned 99, Calls Everybody Darling

By Ouida Jewell

A sweet, little grey-haired lady, Mrs. Sallie White of Union City, celebrated her 99th birthday on March 17, and had a wonderful time! She had two birthday cakes -- one brought by a group of friends from Union City and one baked by Mrs. M. W. Haws, owner of Haws Memorial Nursing Home on Main Street in Fulton, where Mrs. White is a patient.

All of the other patients at the home joined the party, as is the custom at Haws Memorial.

"There is hardly a day that goes by that we don't celebrate someone's birthday," the nurses said.

During the month of December they had nine birthday parties and during March there have been seven. Mrs. Haws bakes a beautiful birthday cake for each. There are only two patients with the same birthday.

We visited Mrs. White in her room and had a delightful time. Her roommate is Mrs. Mary Holmes of Trezavant, Tenn.

Mrs. White was a very popular resident of Union City for many years, having taught a woman's Sunday School class at the First Methodist Church there for 40 years, and has many visitors.

When she was admitted to Haws Memorial on Aug. 31, 1958, a friend of hers, Mrs. Emma Caldwell of Union City, was admitted with her. Up until Mrs. Caldwell (Continued on Page 10)

Report From Puerto Rico: "Wish I Had Time To Enjoy It!"

By Paul Westpheling

It was pure coincidence -- my trip was planned back in January before anyone had any inkling of what March weather in Kentucky was to be like -- but from March 5 to 25, while Kentucky and Fulton were having the worst winter in a half century, I was down in Puerto Rico on active duty with the Army, and I must say that the change was considerable!

You have most likely read elsewhere what the "Big Slam/Puerto Pine" exercise was all about and I won't rehash any of that except for editorial comment (see page 8) but there are numerous sidelights of the trip that are worth a story. One in particular in which I was personally involved, has provoked national mention.

I left Fulton Sunday, March 6 just after the first big snowstorm had melted and drove to Ft. Bragg, North Carolina. Monday night, arriving at Bragg, I discovered that I was one of ten Reserve Army Officers that had been selected by the Continental Army Command to serve on a "Joint Information Task Force" in Puerto Rico for two weeks. This Information task force was made up of officers and men from the Army, Air Force and Navy, to handle the 400 newspapers, TV and radio representatives that had been invited from all over the U. S. to come to Puerto Rico and observe the exercise. Among our group were newspapermen and TV men from New York, Washington, Cleveland, Pittsburgh.

On Tuesday afternoon, March 8 we flew from Ft. Bragg to Ramey Air Force Base on the island of Puerto Rico, and from that date on I lost complete track of time, dates and contact with the U. S. Our group set up a big Press Center at Ramey; another at Roosevelt Roads Naval Station and I was sent to Isla Grande airport at San Juan to man a Press Liaison office there. Our three offices were setup to handle accommodations and to provide service for the incoming civilian Press. Radio, and TV. I was expected to provide the newspapers, radio and TV in the city of San Juan up-to-the-minute information on how the exercise was going, pictures, and anything else they wanted to know. In addition, our office in San Juan operated five air shuttle flights daily between San Juan, Ramey, and Rosey Roads carrying newsmen, Army observers, cargo, mail and anything else needed by our staff. One afternoon I even had to procure two automobile tires from the San Juan agency for a rented car our staff was using for official business at Rosey Roads.

Our office was a mighty busy place. We had a very limited staff and heavy traffic all day long,

CAPT. WESTPHELING AT DESK in temporary office at San Juan set up for airlift exercise. Office was a busy place, handling over 1000 air shuttle passengers in two weeks plus hundreds of coordination details between Army, Navy and Air Force, local press and radio.

everyday. Our first flight went out to Ramey at 7:20 in the morning and the last one came in from Rosey Roads at 10:10 in the evening, seven days a week. Outside the Coast Guard hangar was the bright sunshine and the warm breeze... the swimming pools, golf courses, palm trees, beaches, flowers, interesting city and interesting countryside, and although I went down there to see some of this too, I never had a chance. I worked. Every afternoon we were besieged with requests for San Juan hotel and Guest house accommodations for the incoming visitors, which we managed via telephone from our office. San Juan, being the Capital and the island's only large city, was naturally the focal point for all visitors before they departed back to the States.

Even so, we had our laughs. The first one came from Roosevelt Roads, where the 101st Airborne from Ft. Campbell were landing. The 101st, a heads-up outfit geared for speed, had been assigned a bivouac area in the countryside out near the Naval Station. They solved their latrine problem quickly and efficiently by obtaining a ditch digging machine and digging a slit trench a mile long. Up at Ramey, where hourly incoming flights from the States brought in a continuous stream of newsmen, overnight accommodations were at a premium. Our crew up there had reserved a number of rooms in a resort hotel in Aguadilla so these civilians would have a place to stay. When the hotel management tightened up on their agreement one day stating that no rooms were available, someone "borrowed" his pass key and proceeded to make a daytime personal inspection of the whole place to see that he wasn't lying.

A party of Puerto Rican newsmen, radio and TV reporters were to be flown to Ft. Bragg to observe the operation at that point. They got on the wrong plane at Ramey and were taken to Charleston, S. C. When the plane they were supposed to get on landed at Bragg, the official welcoming party, band, and dignitaries of the Post drove out to meet the plane and found it

Mr. Lee Peery made a trip to Nashville several days ago and had his physical check up in the Veterans Hospital. He is doing nicely to the delight of his many friends over this area.

Mr. Truman Glass, Gainsville, Fla., and his mother, Mrs. Carroll Glass of Mayfield spent the past Monday as dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Johnson.

Some repairs began last week on the out building of Col. Charlie Burrow farms, known to many as the late Fred Farmer place.

Over at the Roy Vincent house a fine crop of early fried chickens is in the making, as Mrs. Vincent was so busy all those snowy days caring for her early flock. She is first farm lady to report in our section, so she has received congratulations as to her effort.

Mr. Stanley Ford visited at the bedside of his sister, Mrs. Beulah Cannon in Haws Nursing Home the past week and there is no improvement at this writing.

Down at the Col. Charlie Burrow farm some improvements have been done, a new fence has gone up, a potato house has been repaired and painted.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Lassiter and son, Leslie, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lassiter the past Wednesday night, honoring the first birthday of their grandson, Mark. A birthday cake decorated and holding a candle was the center appointment. Mark received many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bynum began some redecorating in their home the past week which adds much in the appearance.

I am visiting in the home of a sister, Mrs. B. L. Doron, and Mr. Doron of Martin and having a nice visit. We have attended church today (Sunday) at Bible Union Baptist Church where the Spring Revival begins. Rev. A. B. Adams, Pastor, will conduct services held 7:30 p. m., Mr. Ira Pierce will be in charge of song service.

Hard of Hearing Now Benefit from Scientific Study of Human Eardrum!

An entirely new hearing concept, known as "Tympo-Tech," now enables thousands of people who suffer hearing loss to hear clearly and distinctly again with NOTHING IN EITHER EAR! No ear plugs, tubes, or wires needed. This patented hearing invention is as inconspicuous as a pair of glasses—and as quick and easy to put on and take off. Good hearing results the instant it touches the head. Sound vibrations pass through the mastoid process, by-passing the defective portion of the ear, and go directly to the healthy inner ear and auditory nerve. Patented "Tympo-Tech" is the result of 25 years of study of the human eardrum, plus advanced electronic engineering. It will take you just a few moments to find out how new "Tympo-Tech" works.

Now makes it possible for thousands of people formerly called "deaf," to enjoy normal family, business, religious and social life. You can use it from morning 'til night—or whenever you wish. Developed by Listener Laboratories, originator of hearing glasses, this new Listener may be carried in pocket or purse and put on or removed instantly—without fear of being stared at. Works the instant it touches the head. No one need know you are using it unless you tell them. Write today for your free copy of a scientific booklet that explains "Tympo-Tech"—the latest electronic achievement in better hearing. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper FREE and without obligation. Just send a postcard to Listener Laboratories, 70 Post Road, Ossining, New York.

If you prefer quicker action, come in to see us, or phone for an appointment. There is no cost or obligation.

Robert was well liked by all those that knew him and it is with much sadness that we see such a young devoted husband and father, as well as friend and neighbor, meet such an untimely death.

New Speed Signs On Highway 45W

State employees Thursday replaced all 45 miles per hour signs on the Fulton-Union City highway (51) with new 65-55 signs. The change was made without an official announcement.

The 11-mile stretch of highway was zoned at 65-55 for several years, except for a short section which was zoned at 45 miles per hour.

After complaints of a "speed trap" from motorists entering Tennessee from Kentucky last year, the state Safety Department was asked by local officials to eliminate the 45-mile zone. Shortly afterward, the state made the highway a 45-mile zone from Fulton to Union City.

Several bridges were undergoing a widening process at the time but this work now has been virtually completed.

Civil War Centennial Observance To Be Held In Union City, West Tennessee

Preliminary planning for an Obion county and West Tennessee observance of a Civil War Centennial already is underway in this area but many hundreds of hours of additional planning lie in the future before the centennial time rolls around in late 1962.

County Judge Dan McKinnis has appointed Turner Kirkland of Union City, nationally-known authority on antique weapons, as chairman of the Obion County Centennial committee.

Cloyce Jones has been appointed vice chairman and other members of the committee include Robert Wood and Tom Elam, all of Union City.

Mr. Kirkland said that, in Union City, "the Centennial may be observed by commemorating the famed December, 1862 raid that Gen. Nathan B. Forrest made on the Union forces in this area."

Mr. Kirkland said that several cities and towns in this area will build pageants and other programs about the Forrest raids.

The chairman said that arrangements already are being made with the Rogers Co., which produces shows of this type, to come to Union City in the summer of 1962 to conduct some type of pageant in the city.

Plans, however, he emphasized, are still in the infancy stages.

In December and through New Year's Day back in 1862 and 1863 Gen. Forrest raided a number of Union supply depots in West Tennessee. He destroyed a large amount of equipment and the direct result of the raid was that the Union drive toward Vicksburg, Miss., was delayed about a year.

During a period of 17 days Forrest hit Union depots at Lexington, Jackson, Spring Creek, Trenton, Rutherford, Dyer, Kenton, Union City, McKenzie, McLeomerville, Red Mount (or Parker's Crossroads), and Clifton. Many of these areas will be planning observances in the latter part of 1962.

Mr. Kirkland said the next meeting of the National Civil War Centennial commission will be held in St. Louis, Mo., May 5-6, and its theme will be "A Centennial for all Americans." At the meeting delegates will be given a thorough understanding of how the nationwide program is designed to bring home the story of the Civil War to the entire nation.

FIRST SERVICE

The first religious service in Union City was celebrated May 28, 1775, under a giant elm tree near Boonesboro.

AN IMPORTANT PART of the service offered by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children is available at the Hearing and Speech Center in Louisville. The little girl in the picture is one of the 600 patients who have received treatment since the Center began operating in June, 1958. The 1960 Easter Seal appeal, which opened March 21, helps provide such service for the people of Kentucky.

Mont Blanc Tunnel To Give Easy Passage Through Alps

Washington—Work is under way on the world's longest highway tunnel, which will burrow under Mont Blanc to connect France and Italy.

Scheduled for completion in 1962, the tunnel will be 7.3 miles long and about 5,200 feet above sea level at its center. It will provide a direct, all-season route between Paris and Rome, reducing the driving distance between the two capitals by more than 90 miles.

Several good transalpine highways exist, but snow often blocks them seven months a year, the National Geographic Society says. Then motor vehicles must take a roundabout route along the Mediterranean coast or be shipped through railroad tunnels.

Driving Time Reduced
Presently, an hour-and-a-half of arduous driving is required to cross the average Alpine pass in a good car. It will take about 12 minutes to cross the Alps through the Mont Blanc tunnel. The tunnel will run from near Chamonix, a popular French resort, to Entreves, Italy, not far from Aosta.

Designed to handle about 600,000 vehicles a year, the tunnel will have a 23-foot roadway for two lanes of traffic. Work on the Italian side began early in 1959. The French started drilling several months later, using a three-story, 75-ton drilling machine called Jumbo.

The tunnel fulfills the 172-year-old prediction of Horace Benedict de Saussure, a Swiss naturalist who was the first man to scale the 15,771-foot mountain, highest in the Alps. He said in 1787, "The day will come when a carriage road will be dug under Mont Blanc."

It wasn't until 1906, however, that the tunnel idea was revived. A French engineer, Arnold Monod, proposed a passage for trains and organized a company for the project. As automobiles became popular, Monod changed his proposal to a road tunnel, but did not win approval until 1935. The Italian-Ethiopian War and World War II caused postponement and Monod died before its post-war revival. Another road tunnel is being drilled under the famed St. Bernard pass, not far from Mont Blanc.

This 3.5 mile bore linking Italy and Switzerland should be completed about the same time as the longer tunnel. It lies at a greater altitude and roofed-in roadways must be built to reach it when snow blocks the approaches.

Many Railway Tunnels
Though the new tunnels will be the first highways beneath the Alps, there are several railway passages including the famous Simplon, between Brigue, Switzerland, and Iselle, Italy, which is 12.3 miles long and 7,005 feet below the surface at its greatest depth.

Work on the Simplon tunnel began in 1898 and difficulties arose shortly afterward. Temperatures on the French side reached 127 degrees and ice water was sprayed on the rock to make working conditions tolerable. Miles away, the Italians struck a cold spring that flowed at 10,564 gallons a minute and reduced the temperature 55 degrees. Later, they breached a hot spring which discharged 1,600 gallons a minute with a temperature of 113 degrees.

The Simplon tunnel was opened in 1906, after delays occasioned by crumbling rock and World War I, and a second Simplon passage was completed in 1921.

Happiest in the "S. O. G. WITH P. I. P. Club" are two new members, Louis and Elsie Weeks. . . and for you non-members of this famous club we'll tell you that this is the "Silly Old Grandmother or Grandfather with Pictures in Purse." Yep, Elsie and Louis Weeks have joined the ranks as of Sunday morning when their little grandson, John Hawkins Dicken, Jr. was born in Lexington, Ky. You see, Little John is the son of Mary Davis (Weeks) and John Dicken, who live in the blue grass city. The announcement of the baby's arrival came to the Weeks domain on Sunday morning, and you may know that the newest member of the club was soon wending her way toward central Kentucky. Grandfather Weeks will make every effort to linger in Fulton for at least two weeks before he goes up to see his grandson, but bets are getting heavier-by-the-day that he'll go sooner . . . and who can blame him? After all, it's not every day that one has an opportunity to belong to the "S. O. G's" . . . now, is it? Mary and Little John are just fine. They say that he's just "as husky as can be" - M-m-m looks like a real prospect for the Wildcats! Congratulations to the Dickens and Weeks families, we're the happiest ones for them! (I'll see you in May, Mary and John . . . you know, Woman's Club Convention!)

Fulton High School News

By Janice Davis

This week has been a rather mixed-up week. The aptitude tests given to the seniors by the State Department of Employment were rescheduled from last month and they took them yesterday.

Though seemingly concerning only the seniors, these tests changed the course of everyone in the school . . . because no one was allowed to go through the study hall after nine o'clock. When the results of these tests are compiled, each senior will be told what he, or she, is individually suited for.

Today everyone was busy . . . planting crepe myrtle bushes! At an assembly last Friday, Fulton's mayor, Nelson Tripp, told FHS students the part expected of them in the community Crepe Myrtle project.

And so, immediately following the lunch hour, all students piled on several trucks and helped set some of the several thousand plants on the eight highways leading into Fulton and South Fulton.

During the assembly, Mayor Tripp told us to "wear something colorful" because films are being taken of the planting, the festival, and then some more will probably be taken a year or two from now to see how things have advanced. When completed, the color film will be distributed nationally for the purpose of showing what a community working together can accomplish.

Also taking place at last Friday's assembly was the awarding of the letters for the '59-60 basketball team. Coach Charlie Thomas awarded letters to Roy Morrow, captain, Jerry Lacewell, Bill Burnette, Carl Hurst, Herbert Patton, Hall Warren, Jimmy Cheatem, John Covington, Kenneth Allen, Kenneth Bradley, Ronnie Winston, Ladd Stokes, Leroy Wilbourn, Don Burnette, and the three managers, Roland Carter, Mike Walker, and Lynn Craven. Congratulations fellas, you all worked hard.

Hal Warren, the first place winner in the school for his forest conservation theme, was awarded a certificate of achievement by the Louisville Courier-Journal. It was presented to him by Mr. Mansfield Martin, principal, at the assembly. Congratulations, Hal.

"Christmas all week" last week, or in other words Teacher Appreciation Week, was climaxed at the end of the period by gifts of cakes to the teachers. All of the teachers expressed words of appreciation for their many gifts throughout the week. (Comment from the students: it was nothing, really!)

Last Saturday, many Fulton high and junior-high students participated in the annual Spring Festival in Paducah. Superior ratings were received by Bob Anderson, Carolyn Fly, Judy Binkley, Lynne Holloway, Martha DeMyer, Mary an's Wardrobe."

Mrs. Brown was declared winner of the local contest last week by Mrs. Gilbert DeMyer, Mrs. Louis Weeks and Mrs. Robert Thompson, at a delightful dessert party at the home of Mrs. Hendon Wright. Although she was the only entrant in the Fulton competition, judging was required in order to maintain the high standards set by Vogue Pattern Company and the General Federation of Women's Clubs - sponsors of the contest.

The district judges praised highly Mrs. Brown's success in fashioning a really "ideal costume" as her ensemble was versatile, very becoming and was accented by well chosen accessories, and was very well made.

Our congratulations to the incoming president of the Fulton Woman's Club, Mrs. Harry Allison and to Mrs. Bob Brown, winner of the sewing contest!

Mrs. Jewell McClain was admitted to Fulton Hospital last Friday afternoon with virus pneumonia.

Members of the South Fulton Beta Club spent the weekend in Nashville and attended the Tennessee State Beta Club convention. The 14 South Fulton members left Friday morning on a chartered bus, with members of the Dresden Beta Club, and they returned here Sunday night.

Mrs. Carlton Clark and Bill Alexander, South Fulton teacher, accompanied the group.

To become a member of the Beta Club a student must have an average of B or better.

DeMyer, Nancy Treas, Nancy Bushart, Judy Moore, Ophelia Speight, and James Reed. Those who received ratings of excellent were: Kay Morris, Joyce Owens, Carolinda Hales, and Margaret Omar received a very good.

Spring has sprung. Fall has fell.

And I'm sure everyone knows the rest of this four line verse. But spring sure seems to be here. Students are beginning to wear summer clothes to school and the windows have been opened to let in the refreshing spring breezes.

And so that that 'cool' thought in mind, Dad, I'll cut out for a week.

Mark Anthony Robey, 2 1/2, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Robey. Route 2, Fulton. Mark is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Bethel of Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Robey of Fulton.

Senator Urges Urban Renewal For Small, Large Cities

Senator John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky) this week stressed the opportunity for small cities, as well as large, to clean up and modernize old and blighted sections of their communities by taking advantage of local Federal programs in the field of urban renewal. Speaking at the 29th Annual National Housing Conference in Washington, D. C., the Kentucky legislator stated that smaller communities can do as much relatively as Louisville and Lexington have accomplished in this respect. He spoke on a platform with Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House of Representatives and Senator John

Sparkman, Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Housing

In urging the communities of Kentucky to take advantage of existing programs, Senator Cooper declared that his office would gladly lend aid to officials who wish to provide better housing for their communities.

Advocating opportunity in housing for all American citizens if they are to "have a fair start in life and an opportunity to develop to their full capacities," Senator Cooper pointed out that large and small cities have found the cost of services to blighted areas greater than to areas with decent housing. He added that, with the flight of population to suburban areas, they have found the "loss in tax revenue falls heavily on businesses and residents in better sections."

"Quit Your Kidding" Is Play Selected By Fulton High Seniors

"Quit Your Kidding" - no, not you, that's only the title of the play that the Fulton High seniors will present April 14 in the Carr Auditorium.

This farce comedy by Felicia Metcalfe centers around a poor widow; her three children, a twin boy and girl and an older daughter; a rich aunt who hates boys; and several thousand dollars. The problem occurs when the aunt says that she will give each, of which the thinks are the widows three girls, $5000. Interspersed throughout the play is the comic clumsiness of a country maid hired for the occasion of the visiting aunt.

Tickets will be sold for the performance by members of the senior class. Prices are .50 for adults and .25 for students.

All properties, publicity, and production are the duties of the entire senior class. The direction of the play is being controlled by Mrs. Catherine Bennett, class sponsor and English instructor.

There Is Increased Demand For Services On Party Of Hearing And Speech Center

A growing understanding of the need for a more widespread program to help children with a definite hearing impairment has resulted in an increased demand for services on the part of the Hearing and Speech Center of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, the Easter Seal Society.

According to statistics, there are more than 8,000 Kentucky children with sufficient hearing impairment to warrant special help. Many of these children need to be sponsored by such organizations as the Easter Seal Society. Since hearing aids cost an average of about $200.00 apiece, the financial undertaking of sponsoring such a program is obviously a large one.

During 1959 approximately 40 hearing aids were purchased for children whose families could not afford them. In many cases, the Kentucky Society also provided the necessary examination and therapy following the provision of the hearing aid. In 1960, it is anticipated, there will be a still greater demand for this service.

The first in a series of one-day heart clinics for medically indigent children in the Purchase Area will be held in Mayfield on Friday, April 1, according to an announcement by Dr. Frank H. Moore, Bowling Green, president of the Kentucky Heart Association.

Site of the clinic will be the Graves County Health Department, Dr. Moore said, and registration of patients will start at 8:30 a. m. He pointed out that "a patient will be accepted only if referred in writing by a physician in private practice," adding that "the purpose of the clinic is to provide a diagnostic and consultative service for each patient along with recommendations to the referring physician in private practice with the latest heart disease care and treatment methods." Ferry-Morse News From the Plant

BY IRENE YATES

Valda Puckett's daughter, Paula, who is a Junior at the Dresden High School, attended the Beta Convention in Nashville the past weekend.

We see two injured hands this past week. Dola Sisson was working with a lamp to make one of the new old lamps into a center piece. In cleaning the lamp, it broke and cut her hand. Took 4 stitches to sew it up. Better luck next time, Dola. Laura Byars got a finger in the wrong place and got it mashed.

Mabel McAllister's father, Mr. Will Puckett, has been dismissed from the Baptist Hospital in Paducah and is getting along just fine. We are all glad to know Mr. Puckett is doing O. K.

Edith Frasier was out Thursday to attend the funeral of Robert Jones at Johnson Grove.

Martha Moore and three children have all had the chicken-pox. The two older ones have been able to go back to school, but the baby is still a mighty sick little girl. Hurry and get well little Miss Moore. Talking about chicken-pox, it's a shame the children don't have hen house for the cure of those pox. I remember my youngest brother and I had the chicken-pox at the same time and our good friend gave us a sure cure for it. Go to the hen house every morning early, and we found out it had to be real early, for the secret was to get there and let the chickens fly over our heads. I will admit now it was a pretty hard job to convince those hens they had to fly out. But it worked, for in about 4 or 5 days we were rid of those chicken-pox. I look back some times and feel sorry for those poor chickens and think of all those good hot breakfast we missed. Don't blame my mother, she tried to tell us better, but no, we had to listen to all those nice younger friends that had been cured by the same method, so they said. We think about it some times now and laugh at the picture we made out in the hen house so early in the morning and the hens trying to get out and us determined they had to fly out and over us, at that. It really is funny now, but then it was really serious business.

Marrella Rhodes stayed home a day or two with her baby son, Ricky, who has been sick.

Vivian Young missed work last Thursday to see her son, Johnny, off to the Air Force. Johnny will be stationed at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas. Mary Frances Ramsey and husband, Clarence, went to Clarksburg, Tenn. over the weekend to attend a revival being conducted by Bro. Eugene Clark of Detroit, Mich. Bro. Clark was the pastor of the church that Mary Frances and Clarence attended when they lived in Detroit.

Mary Alice Taylor, eleven-year-old daughter of Frances Taylor, made her parents mighty proud last Friday when Mary Alice, a 5th grade student in the Dresden School, was the Champion Speller of Weakley County. The spelling was held in the Dresden Court House. Mary Alice won a blue ribbon and a cash prize. Congratulations, Mary Alice and keep up the good spelling.

Montez Kumble and husband, Garrett, went to Jackson over the weekend to visit one of Garrett's nephews, who was a patient at the Madison County General Hospital in Nashville.

Neil Chinard, husband of Helen, has been admitted to the Hillview Hospital. Neil the weather is too pretty for you to spend much time in there, you know many days like this and those fish will soon be biting most anything you throw at them. So hurry and get home.

Larry Curley has been dismissed from the Hillview Hospital. Larry is the son of Laverne Gureley.

Happy Birthday to the following: John Davis Brown on April 2; Hazel Howell on April 1; Guthrie Luther on April 5; Mary Nell Miltstead on April 8. Many happy returns of the day to everyone of you. Guthrie is Martha's husband. John is Betty's husband.

Happy Anniversary to Dola Sisson and husband, Buford, on April 5. May the rest of your years be filled with much happiness, love and God's blessings, from all of us at Ferry-Morse.

Norman Davis had to go home Monday morning he was feeling so bad. Norman hope you are feeling better and be back to work soon.

Federal Cost-Sharing

Federal cost-sharing under the Agricultural Conservation Program is helping Obion County farmers make needed land-use adjustments on their farms, according to C. C. Vaughn, Chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. County ACP records are sent to the ACP Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington for study and evaluation. They become part of the national record and are used to help determine future agricultural conservation programs, Mr. Vaughn

Farm News, Meetings, Events

(Ed's note: the following information, supplied THE NEWS by the USDA, ASC, nearby County Agents and agricultural agencies will be of special interest to progressive farmers in the Ken-Tenn area):

1960 Crop Grain Rates Announced

W. O. Gilreath, Chairman of the Kentucky State ASC Committee, today announced that the 1960 Crop National Average Minimum Price Support Rates for all grains except corn and wheat will be the same as last year.

Rates established are: Barley - 77 cents per bushel; Grain Sorghum - $1.52 Cwt; Oats - 50 cents per bushel; and Rye - 90 cents per bushel. The corn rate has been set at $1.06 per bushel in comparison with $1.12 for the 1959 Crop Year. The wheat rate has been set at $1.77 per bushel in comparison with $1.81 for the 1959 Crop Year.

Kentucky State and County Final Support Rates will be announced by the ASC State and County Offices well in advance of the harvest of each of these commodities, Mr. Gilreath further stated.

Wheat Grower Without Allotment Should Notify ASC

Any farmer who has seeded wheat for harvest as grain next summer but who does not have a wheat allotment or a feed wheat exemption should notify the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office of his estimated acreage, William O. Gilreath, Chairman of the Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today. In this way, county records can be established and steps can be taken to make such a farmer eligible for a wheat marketing card if he decides to sell any of his grain.

Under the wheat marketing quota program, any grower who produces more than 15 acres of wheat is subject to a penalty on any "excess" wheat harvested. The penalty must be paid before the wheat is eligible for marketing.

Farmers May Redeem Price-Support Grains

With maturity dates approaching for a number of grains which are under price support in this area, Roy Bard, Chairman of the Fulton County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office today reminded farmers that they should be alert to market prices that will enable them to redeem their grain at a profit.

Mr. Bard pointed out that under new legislation, effective first with last year's crops, so-called "equity" payments are not longer made in connection with the takeover of commodities pledged as collateral for price-support loans. For crops earlier than 1959, equity payments were made when the market price of a commodity under price-support loan was above the loan plus charges.

While equity payments will not be made, producers may continue to obtain any equity they may have in loan collateral by repaying the loan before maturity, thus regaining full ownership of the commodity for whatever disposition they may choose to make.

TREE PLANTING

One-third of the record planting of trees in 1959 was on cropland in the Conservation Reserve, Mr. C. C. Vaughn, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reported today. Mr. Vaughn based his report on an analysis of three plantings on publicly and privately owned land, recently completed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The department reported that 2,118,471 acres of trees were planted last year and that 700,000 acres were Conservation Reserve land. Through 1959, a total of 1.8 million acres of Conservation Reserve land had been contracted for tree planting. This conservation use has been most popular in the Southeastern States and in the States bordering the Great Lakes.

Under the Conservation Reserve program, farmers voluntarily take land out of crop production by placing it under contract for a period of years. The contracts call for the land to be devoted to an approved conservation use such as trees, grass, water storage, or cover especially beneficial to wildlife. When trees are to be planted on the land, the contract must be for a period of 10 years. Farmers receive cost-sharing to help plant the trees and also annual payments for the life of the contract.

Cotton Acreage "Release" Date Nears

Cotton growers were reminded today of the importance of either using or releasing their cotton allotments this year in order to prevent reduced allotments for future years. The deadline for releasing cotton farm allotments in Kentucky is May 13, 1960.

According to W. O. Gilreath, Chairman, Kentucky ASC Committee, the 1961 cotton allotment for a farm will be reduced if certain conditions are not met in 1960. So a farmer who knows that he will not plant at least 75 percent of his farm's cotton allotment in 1960 can help himself and also other cotton farmers by releasing his allotment before the deadline. This will assure him, as well as the county and State, of history acreage for future allotments.

Under a recent amendment to the law, the Chairman explains, the 1960 allotment is required to be used as the farm's allotment base in determining the 1967 Cotton Allotment if at least 75 percent of the farm's 1960 allotment is planted or "regarded as planted." Otherwise, the base for determining a future allotment will be reduced to the average of (1) the regular (Choice A) allotment for the year, and (2) the acreage planted or "Regarded as Planted" in that year.

Obion County Agricultural Comments and Events By Tom McCutchen County Agent, Obion County

Farmers getting restless to get in the fields. Soil is drying out fast on the hills. Soil sampling has picked up rapidly the last few days.

County farmers have been in good attendance at local Chemical Weed Control meetings throughout the county. To date some 150 farmers have attended the four local meetings. Six more are set up for March 31 and April 1.

A county-wide "Soil Fertility Program" will get underway during April. The program will have soil testing as its main theme. Trial or comparison plots will be set up where a portion of a field is fertilized and limed according to soil test with a check plot or comparison plot adjoining to show the difference. All crops grown in the county will be in the program. The goal will increase county farm income through efficient use of fertilizer with the soil test as the first step.

Farmers will be asked to take soil tests, if they haven't already, and fertilize and lime according to recommendations; then leave a comparison plot. If they will not do this, they will be asked to fertilize and lime one acre according to soil test and leave a comparison plot. Those reluctant to do either of the above will be asked to allow us to take a soil test and fertilize and lime a small plot according to soil test with the rest of the field as a comparison plot. We hope to erect signs showing what was done on each plot, especially along the roads and highways. This will be a "show me" campaign with more efficient crop production being the goal. At least 50 comparison plots are expected to be set up this year.

Events Coming Up In

The Near Future
Chemical Weed Control Meetings are scheduled as follows: Thursday, March 31 - Dixie High School - 10:00 A. M.; Troy High School - 2:00 P. M.; Central Community Center - 7:00 P. M. At each of these meetings, chemicals to use for weed control on cotton, corn and soybeans will be discussed as to amount and proper equipment to use. Haywood Luck and James A. Mullins, University of Tennessee, Agricultural Extension Service Specialists will conduct each meeting.

On Tuesday night, April 5, an Obion County Livestock Association sponsored Swine Management School will be held. The school will be conducted by Tom Langford Assistant Extension Animal Husbandman from Jackson. Location will be the Circuit Courtroom, Courthouse, Union City starting at 7:30 p. m.

Kentucky has taken the leadership in setting up government-sponsored lending agencies to finance industrial development. Gov. Bert Combs signs Senate Bill 252, appropriating $2,035,000 to the Industrial Development Finance Authority, while Lieut. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt (left) and Commissioner of Economic Development Bruce Kennedy look on. The Authority will lend money to local development agencies for constructing industrial plants and establishing industrial subdivisions. The Kentucky General Assembly also has set up the Kentucky Business Development Corporation, a privately managed and privately financed organization for making business loans for new industrial plants and expansion of existing plants. MATS and STRAC: An Essential Defense Team

Probably few citizens of this country - unless they have husbands, sons or close kin in military service - have any conception of today's Army, its strength, its dispersion or its capabilities.

To most of us, our Military establishment is something that must be big because it is expensive and takes a whale of a lot of tax money each year to operate . . . as best as we can remember, about forty billion dollars of the national budget is spent annually for national defense.

As a member of the Army Reserve on active duty for a three week period this month, I have just returned from Puerto Rico, during which time I had the opportunity to "look in" on some of this Military program and see for myself just how well it is organized and functioning.

If you are interested in where some of your taxes-spent-for-defense are going, I hope that this little account will prove informative. I would like to tell you about some of it.

To begin with, Army Secretary Brucker points out that almost half of Army strength and more than half of its operating force is stationed overseas, poised along the entire border of the Free World, or wherever contact may be made between the forces of Freedom and those of international Communism, linked in a great mutual defense system with more than 40 other nations.

This force is the "forward" force, termed by Brucker the "Forward strategy".

Backing up these overseas units is a battle-ready organization located here in the U. S. interior, consisting of one Infantry and two airborne divisions, forming the Strategic Army Corps, or STRAC. The three divisions in STRAC are prepared to move out to any point in the world in a matter of hours, either to back up U. S. troops or to be sent to other areas where there are no U. S. troops deployed.

One of these battle-ready airborne divisions in STRAC is the 101st Airborne at Ft. Campbell, Ky; the other is the 82nd Airborne at Ft. Bragg, N. C. The 101st is ready, day or night, 365 days a year, to load advanced combat elements in aircraft within two hours of an initial alert; the 82nd can similarly load within three hours.

The big questionmark before the house for these last several years has been: can these STRAC divisions be airlifted to some distant point and supplied over an extended period? The airlift responsibility belongs not to the Army, but to a branch of the Air Force known as the Military Air Transport Service, or MATS.

This was the reason for exercise BIG SLAM/PUERTO PINE, just concluded this week in Puerto Rico. Twenty-two thousand men and some fourteen thousand tons of equipment were airlifted from bases all over the U. S. to Puerto Rico, to test the mobility of the Strategic Army Corps and the ability of MATS to do the job.

It was a monumental job, but a worthwhile "dry run" for the real thing, should that ever occur. We understand that MATS used almost 50% of all the planes it has, in order to do the job. The Army, in turn, had to plan carefully for its loading, unloading, timing, supply and close coordination with MATS. It was the biggest peace-time airlift in history.

In Puerto Rico, the exercise was a sight to behold. Every 7 1/2 minutes a transport plane landed from the States, either at Ramey Air Force Base on one of the Island or at Roosevelt Roads Navy Base at the other. Ground service crews serviced the incoming planes in a big semi-circle, at the same time they were being loaded or unloaded. As soon as a plane was serviced (1 1/2 hour, up) it was loaded, departed its slot in the circle and went back to the States for another load, leaving its opening for the newest incoming plane. Troops and equipment were whisked off the field as soon as possible, and removed to training areas nearby.

The whole exercise went smoothly and is a tribute to the close possible coordination of the Army and the Air Force to do a job. To a lesser extent, but also directly involved, was the Navy: Air Force and Army used a Navy base for landings, and Navy maintenance crews and planes were integrated in the whole operation.

I was an Army officer stationed at a Liaison office in San Juan, located in a Coast Guard hanger on a Navy base, guarded by the Marines. I worked with an Air Force officer and a Navy Chief Petty officer, and our office included a Lieutenant in the Puerto Rican National Guard as an assistant. We all worked hard, but we worked well together, as did everyone involved in the entire exercise.

The air lift to Puerto Rico was a typical demonstration of the fact that a ground army must have an adequate and ready air transport at its disposal to be effective. The whole exercise was observed closely by the entire U. S. Defense establishment and by Congress. As I left Puerto Rico last week I felt very confident that in STRAC and MATS we have a good Army-Air Force team, ready to go anywhere, anytime, in a matter of hours.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Why Divorce Doesn't Work

by Joan Mitchell

I SHOULD have hated the word "divorce." Divorce took my parents from me when I was a child, during those freedom-seeking days after the First World War, when God's law against divorce became unfashionable.

But for a long time divorce seemed like a sensible practice to me. It is only with mature reflection that I realize the tragedy of the broken home.

THE ARGUMENTS for divorce can sound very very logical: "Why live with a faithless or improvident or just incompatible spouse?" or "Nothing is worse for a child than to be caught in the crossfire of his parents' conflicts." But these arguments for divorce do not stand the test of experience, or the greater logic behind God's law.

I had a friend whose husband went from surliness and bad temper to idleness and heavy drinking. My friend managed as best she could for a while, but finally her spirit snapped, and taking the baby with her, she divorced him. She was married a few years later to a successful business man. They lived in an exclusive suburban neighborhood, had cars and servants, but she still wasn't happy.

THE REASON for her unhappiness then dawned on me. In both marriages my friend had been concerned only with her happiness, and happiness was impossible to her in any marriage. Divorce wasn't a change; it left her exactly as she was before — selfish to the core.

THE GREATEST tragedy about divorce is what it does to children. A child is the strongest proof that there once was love in a marriage — a love to build on — and the good of the child is the fundamental reason for God's law against divorce.

On Sunday, April 3, from 8 to 9:30 p. m. (CST) Columbia Broadcasting System will present "Alas Babylon", on the "Playhouse 90" series.

The play, adapted from a story by Pat Frank, "Alas Babylon", published by Bantam Books, Inc., is the story of an atomic war, and of a small town in Florida which remains an island of civilization in a country side ravaged by radiation. It reveals, more movingly than any primer, why Civil Defense should command the attention of every American.

Governor Leo Hoegh, Administrator of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, Linus Pauling, awarded the Nobel Prize for Chemistry, 1954 and General Thomas S. Powers, Commander of the Strategic Air Command are high in their praise of the book. General Thomas S. Powers has said that the book is - "Extremely thought-provoking - in my opinion it should be a must on the reading list of every American, and in particular, for all dependents of SAC."

Mr. Marvin Sanders, South Fulton Civil Defense Director, advises all local residents to watch this movie on April 3.

My parents and I would like to thank all our friends for their many acts of kindness during Mother's stay in the Fulton Hospital. Everyone has been so nice!

Speaking of Mother being in the hospital. Did you know that until a few days ago - in all my years - I had never turned on a washing machine. Although I had never had the occasion to do so, I would have sworn it was the simplest thing on earth to do. But, do you know what? I gathered up the dirty clothes, put them in the machine. Then, I couldn't get the thing to work. I called in Anna Belle Edwards, who has been staying with me at night - and believe it or not, she didn't know how, either. (She's been keeping house for years.)

When Daddy got up, I had to ask him to start the washer and you should have heard him preach. Says he, "A girl as old as you should have already known how to turn a washing machine on." But, I didn't! Neither did Anna Belle!

Our friend, Edmond Khourie, The News paperboy and proprietor of a Lake Street popcorn popper, has expanded his business and is now selling bags of delicious peanuts in the downtown area. If you haven't tried Edmond's peanuts, do so. They are delicious.

Last Wednesday morning I was pleasantly surprised when I got a long distance phone call from Jackson, Tenn. Calling was an old friend of mine, Rita Sears Finks, who used to work with me in Washington back in '43 and '44. She and her Marine officer husband and their three children were enroute from North Carolina to California, where he was being transferred. They had stopped by Jackson to visit with his brother.

Rita and I had a nice long chat, recalling good ole days in D. C.

Miss Beverly Burgess, who has been visiting in Puerto Rico with her sister, Mrs. W. R. Heaslet and family since March 4, is expected to return to Fulton around April 1. Miss Burgess has also been visiting other places in the Caribbean.

Over the weekend I had a nice chat with Mrs. Otis Bizzle and heard for the first time something of the trip to Guatemala she and her husband made back in November, to visit their daughter, Nell, and her family. It was all quite interesting and we are looking forward to seeing the movies Mr. Bizzle made while there.

Nell, her husband and their children will be here soon for a two weeks' visit, then the adults will leave for a vacation trip to Europe, while the children remain here with their grandparents.

Bates received a serious head injury, cuts and bruises, and Hahn received cuts and bruises.

I also had a delightful chat Sunday with Mrs. Paul Hornbeak. She was telling of the vacation trip to Mexico, she and her husband made recently. They seem to have had quite an interesting time. They spent almost a week at Monterrey and while there attended some of the sessions of a Rotary Convention being held at their hotel. They also met a couple of movie stars.

Colored Boy Arrested For Robberies Makes Many Conflicting Statements

One man has confessed to robbery of two Martin supermarkets in recent weeks and has implicated two other persons as fellow participants. The confessed burglar is Homer McGowan, 17-year-old Negro of Union City. The two other suspects, both Negroes, are also from Union City and are also teen-agers. Weakley County Sheriff Harold Cooper said McGowan is being held by Union City Police but has not been charged.

McGowan confessed to the two burglaries about mid-afternoon last Wednesday after intensive questioning by Chief Zollner Carter and Sheriff Cooper. He had been questioned by the two officers several times Tuesday at Union City, where that city's police department had him in custody. Last Wednesday he was transferred to Martin for further questioning.

After orally confessing to the robbery of the Big Star Supermarket February 19 and the Liberty Supermarket March 15, McGowan signed statements detailing the two crimes and was then returned to Union City. McGowan has told officials conflicting stories as to his accomplices. He at first named his accomplices as Martin Negroes, but then admitted that his statements implicating them were false. He next gave police the names of two other Negroes, one from South Fulton and the other from Clinton, Kentucky, as his accomplices. However, last Wednesday night McGowan repudiated this statement also and implicated two other Union City Negroes. The two were taken into custody for preliminary examination.

In his confession concerning the West Side Big Star, McGowan said that he and his two alleged companions came to Martin from Union City Friday night, February 19, arrived here about 10:55. He said that one of the others broke the window in the rear, entered, and opened the door. McGowan then joined this one and the two spent about an hour ram-sacking the money. He said that some $800 was placed in an orange or yellow bag and the other $200 in a white bag.

His statement concerning robbery of the Liberty Supermarket Tuesday, March 15, added that the three got to Martin from Union City about 12:15 a.m. McGowan said that he opened the window and that he and one accomplice entered the store and worked inside about two hours on the safe. He stated that $2000 was obtained.

McGowan claimed that the three would hitch-hike around and would split up after the jobs. The many conflicting statements made by McGowan to Martin and Weakley County police have led to doubts as to the authenticity of his own confession. Sheriff Cooper said Thursday morning.

Management - - The Most Profitable Word In Farming

Even in prosperous times some farmers lose money, and other farmers earn good profits in adverse times. The question is, why? There is no one answer, however, management plays a major role in research has pointed out. When two farmers are in the same area, with the same soil type, comparable investments, but whose profits are wide apart, then the difference must be due largely to management.

Today, the rate of introduction of new methods on the farm is at a terrific pace. It seems that about the time a farmer learns the name of the latest antibiotic then along comes a new one. Changes that would have been spectacular once, are now commonplace.

Farmers have always placed great emphasis on knowledge in the various fields such as dairying, field crops, soils, fertilizers, etc. Now, and increasing in years ahead, they will find it necessary to develop another skill, that of farm business management. We are coming to realize that this phase of agricultural education has been somewhat neglected. In these modern times, sound agricultural management offers opportunity for bigger profits from farming operations. The best definition to this phase of agriculture is learning to make the best decision at the proper time. This is hard work even though it requires little physical effort except pencil and paper and much thought on each subject.

Profitable decisions are more likely to result from thorough planning on paper, backed by facts and figures than from haphazard methods. Changes now taking place will not make the farm manager's decisions any easier. This is all the more reason for learning how to think through farm problems with a sound understanding of the economic questions involved.

There is money to be made on the farm and those who practice principles of good management will be the ones who make the large share of profits. Will you be included in that group in this decade of a changing agriculture.

Ghoulish Holiday

By Gary Williamson

Why is no one the friend of ghouls, Vampires, mummies, and were-wolves?

Have you seen a crawling eye perhaps? Or ever dined on mummy wraps? A vampire has the best of taste. Type "o" blood never goes to waste.

Step into a mummy's tomb. They line the walls of catacombs. A were-wolf lives in someone's soul. And comes to life when the death bells toll. Blood gushing from a fresh-slit throat. Fills him with inspiring hope. But don't say ghouls are much too few. One might be sitting next to you.

teaching Journalism at a $3000 annual increase in salary and accepted - all less than 24 hours after touching ground. I never did hear that he sent any stories back to his paper.

Our "choice" story in our office happened one Saturday night, and it was so strange that I sat down and wrote it up when it was all over, delivering copies to all concerned so they would know the whole truth. For the next week I was asked for innumerable copies of it from all over the country, and I understand that it is coming out in Time Magazine this week.

Appropriately, we named it "Bag-NET", after the popular program, and wrote it in the same style. Here's the way it happened: Time: 19 March 1960

Locale: Isla Grande Press Liaison Office, Operation Big Slam/Puerto Pine

5:30 pm: Four pieces of luggage arrive on late shuttle from Ramey AFB; owners, two Press women, already at Hotel La Concha, Press Liaison Office, alerted for late arrival of luggage, instructed to forward post-haste to Hotel.

5:40 All transportation out on business. Women call office, demand luggage. Told will deliver via first car in.

5:55 Women again call office. Are waiting on curb at hotel. Demand luggage. Told no transportation yet available. Tell officer in charge to deliver via cab.

5:56 Cab called.
6:05 Cab arrives. Baggage put in cab. Driver instructed both in English and in Spanish where to deliver baggage. Cab leaves. Baggage well and clearly tagged.

6:30 Irate woman calls from La Concha. No baggage yet arrived. Assured is enroute, should be there. Urged to check all hotel receiving facilities thoroughly. Cab company very reliable.

6:31 Supper leave delayed pending arrival for baggage.

6:46 Irate call from La Concha. No baggage. Officer puzzled. Caller reassured. Local cabs sometimes slow. Local custom.

7:01 Fiery call from La Concha. No baggage yet. Office staff springs into action.

7:02 Cab company called. Explanation demanded. Do we know driver? No.

7:10 Six other hotels near La Concha. No baggage fitting description.

7:30 Irate call from La Concha. Caller, assured office checking feverishly.

7:32 Irate call from Major. Action demanded. Tone highly unpleasant. This could mean the end of MATS.

7:33 Cab company again called. They are checking. Nothing further to report.

7:35 Office desperate. All leads gone. Effort to locate Puerto Rican Lt. who helped load baggage fail.

7:40 Cab company again called. New voice answers. Yes, they know about baggage. Cab was in accident. Driver had to go to Police station. Where is baggage? It is now being delivered.

7:44 Irate ladies at La Concha are called. Delay explained. Apologies tendered. Asked to standby for delivery any minute.

7:48 Major calls. Irate. Demands explanation. Gets it.

7:59 Chief strolls down hangar for drink of water. Dashes madly to office. Hurries Capt. to traffic office of nearby Coast Guard. Missing baggage sitting quietly in corner.

8:00 Cab company called. Explanation demanded. Immediate pickup and delivery demanded. Company explains that accident was bad. Office figures that delay was embarrassing, baggage returned to sender to avoid unhappy explanation to irate women, waiting at curb at La Concha. Cab company says no cabs available for delivery at this time.

8:03 Baggage dispatched by office vehicle. Special escort.

8:10 Major calls. Calm, measured speech. Explains that he is at Police station. Is driving slowly to hotel La Concha. Baggage was dispatched from Police station, no? Surely will arrive before he gets to hotel, no? Otherwise will call again. expect proper explanation. Very slow, measured, distinct speech.

8:11 Office holds breath. Hopes police station is located further from La Concha than Coast Guard hangar.

8:30 Silence.
9:00 Silence.

9:30 Office heads for nearest bar. Supper forgotten.

Westpheling, Capt. R. P. Jr. Press Liaison, Isla Grande

Fulton-South Fulton Youth Center Is Local Explorer Post Project

By Janice Davis
Ever since last June, the top floor of city hall has been the location for the Youth Center.

The membership now numbers around 125 teen-agers from both Fulton and South Fulton. Every Friday and Saturday evening these members have a place where they may play cards, ping pong, checkers, chess, or they may dance, listen to records, or just sit around and talk. Soft drinks, nuts, gum, etc. are sold for those who always seem to be hungry.

All this has been brought about by the hard work and effort of Explorer Post 43. Beginning in April, the eighteen boys in the post and their leaders took up tiles, sanded floors, built platforms around the main room, painted, built the bar, and Thomas Exum, one of the leaders, put in the record player.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, Lions Club, Wade Furniture and the Derby Restaurant have all made appreciated donations to Teen-Town.

Plans are now in the making for a Beatnik April 1 and or 2.

Teen Town's major problem is chaperones. This task has fallen almost completely upon the Post leaders, Thomas Exum, Billy Johnson, and George Carter.

Recently some of the parents have come to T. T. on Friday evening and opened up and been there to supervise. They were: Mrs. E. Beggs, Mrs. J. Morris, Mrs. W. Whitel, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Jolley. Anyone who would like to assist the teen-agers in this way should contact any of the Post leaders.

The members of Explorer Post 43 are: Tommy Fields, Butch Buckingham, Merrell Davis, Gary Williamson, Roland Carter, Wallace Shankle, Charles Rice, Lynn and Jimmy Newton, Barry Roper, Jim Hinkle, Lynn Craven, David and John Cunningham, Jimmy Wright, Jerry House, Vyron Mitchell, and Donnie Bennett.

Club rules are: No smoking, drinking, profanity, fireworks, or unruly conduct.

No intoxicated persons allowed.

No one is allowed to leave and return.

Membership cards are good until June, 1960.

Cards must be shown when entering.

If rules are not obeyed, membership will be permanently cancelled.

If anyone wishes to attend T. T. and does not have a membership card, he may either purchase one at the door or pay a visitors fee.

MRS. SALLIE

well's death on January 12 of this year, the two friends had a wonderful time together.

All the nurses love Mrs. White and she calls all of them "Darling". She loves jewelry and the nurses see that she has plenty of costume jewelry to wear.

Mrs. White is the daughter of a Methodist minister. Her husband died many years ago. She has a son, Robert White, who is in the insurance business at Union City, a daughter, Mrs. Lee of Union City and a grandson, Thomas Lee, of Nashville.

While visiting Mrs. White we took a look around Haws Memorial and found it a very charming place.

The nursing home - the only licensed nursing home in Fulton County is registered with the American Nursing Home Association.

There are 30 beds and 27 patients now. There are 10 men and 17 women located on the two floors. There are two couples at the home.

Mrs. Haws, a local school teacher and the widow of the late Dr. M. W. Haws, opened the nursing home on April 19, 1958. She is owner and administrator. Mrs. Carlton Clark is supervisor. The nurses are Mrs. G. A. Thomas, Mrs. Mattie Essary, Mrs. Venita Worley, Mrs. Jim Lucy, Mrs. Lila Payne, Mrs. Allie Mack, Mrs. Mable Davis, Mrs. June Parham, Miss Trulla Atkins and Mrs. Clara Lee.

Ruben Pirtle is the male nurse and custodian. One of his jobs is to shave the male patients. Mary Margaret Rucker is the cook and Matilda Hunter is the extra cook.

Visitors are always welcome from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day.

Immortal "Macbeth" Trouble To Seniors

"Double, double, toil and trouble
Fire burn, and caldron bubble."

It's not a tongue-twister or a curse, it is just the magic words for the witches brew in Shakespeare's "Macbeth."

They probably sound vaguely familiar to you if you have been around the Seniors any. When you passed one who had a far-away look in his eye and was muttering under his breath, he wasn't cursing anyone (we hope), just reciting from "Macbeth."

Yes, the witches, Macbeth, and all the other characters of the play came to life in Mrs. Catherine Bennett's senior English classes. Members of the class took the various characters' parts and read the play aloud. And in the fifth hour class girls often had to read Macbeth and the Lords' parts because of a boy shortage.

If anyone thinks all of this is extremely funny, just wait. You'll be doing it yourself next year!
